

RYAN VARICK

I am a designer in San Francisco.

My work over the last decade includes consumer finance products for LendUp and Wells Fargo, content management systems for Bleacher Report, and enterprise productivity software for Nokia and Motorola.

Work

LendUp • 2015-2018

I designed credit cards for people without good credit.

Bleacher Report • 2013-2015

I designed content management systems for the people behind the world's second largest sports website.

Wells Fargo • 2011-2012

I designed mobile interfaces for the customers of one of the world's largest banks.

Nokia • 2010

I designed messaging software for a line of unreleased smartphones.

Good Technology • 2009-2010

I designed productivity apps for early smartphone users.

Motorola • 2008-2009

I designed mobile device management tools for IT teams.

Education

M.S., Human-Computer Interaction Design

School of Informatics, Indiana University

B.S., Computer Science

College of Arts & Sciences, Indiana University

Contact Information

330-282-6078

ryan@ryanvarick.com

Portfolio

Available online at <https://ryanvarick.com>